United Hospital System Chooses Streamline Health for Business Analytics and Patient Financial Services Solutions

Major Wisconsin Health System Also Extends License of Streamline Health's Enterprise Content Management Solution for an Additional Six Years

CINCINNATI, July 31, 2012 /PRNewswire/ -- Streamline Health Solutions, Inc. (NasdaqCM: STRM), a leading provider of enterprise content management and business analytics solutions for healthcare organizations, today announced that United Hospital System of Kenosha, Wisconsin has expanded its relationship with Streamline Health for an additional six years by licensing the company's business analytics and patient financial services solutions and by upgrading and extending their license for the company's enterprise content management solution.

As part of the agreement, United Hospital System will license Streamline Health's business analytics solution, OpportunityAnyWare with the 835DenialWare integration for both their hospital and physician clinics, along with the company's AuditWare workflow management solution for the hospital business. These solutions will deliver actionable information and provide better insight into the areas of financial opportunity across both their acute and ambulatory revenue cycle. The audit workflow management solution will help facilitate the management of all third party audits and ensure timelines are not missed and revenue is protected. The advanced analytics will help United Hospital System improve cash flow, resulting in balance sheet improvement and lower accounts receivable levels and provide better insight into the root cause of denials resulting in the improvement of net revenue and cash yield.

The health system will also extend its license for AccessAnyWare, Streamline Health's enterprise content management solution that United Hospital System has licensed since 2009, and will upgrade and serve as beta partner for the company's newest release of the product.

"Streamline Health is very excited about expanding our partnership with United Hospital System," said Robert E. Watson, president and chief executive officer of Streamline Health. "We are confident that with the deployment of our business analytics, denial management, and audit workflow solutions that both the hospital and physician practices will be well armed to protect revenues and maximize revenue cycle and operational performance. We also appreciate their desire to upgrade their content management system to tap into the benefits associated with our newest technology platform."

"We have had great success with Streamline Health's AccessAnyWare solution and are confident in the value that we will get by installing the business analytics, denial management, and audit workflow solutions," said Thomas Kelley, Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of United Hospital System. "We believe that these solutions will provide more transparency into the processes to assist us improve net revenue, accelerate cash flow and determine root cause issues around denials and other avoidable write-off's for both our hospital and physician clinics. Streamline Health has a proven track record of delivering value added healthcare information technology solutions that we will continue to rely upon to help our organization improve our revenue cycle in the years to come."
